PROCESS

QUALITY STARTS LONG BEFORE A PRODUCT IS DELIVERED. IT STARTS WITH EVERY SINGLE STEP THAT COMES BEFORE.

Quality is not created at the end of a process. It is built into every product from the very beginning. That is why we thoroughly test our automotive parts and ensure their quality before they become part of our product range.

In our in-house quality laboratory, we test products according to defined procedures and work exclusively with ISO-certified manufacturing partners.

Insights from testing and quality analyses continuously feed into the further development of our product range.

Supplier audits, certified manufacturing partners and standardized testing procedures form the foundation of our commitment to quality.

Our Controlled Quality Label stands for products that workshops and wholesalers can rely on – today and tomorrow.

SUCCESSFUL PARTNERSHIPS BEGIN WHERE CUSTOMERS BECOME TRUE PARTNERS.

That is why we see service not as an added benefit, but as an integral part of our collaboration. Technical support, hands-on training and technical training for commercial staff help share knowledge and create confidence.

Starting in 2027, we will also offer training at our own state-of-the-art training centre. Our Metzger Technik Mobil and marketing support complement our services and help our customers develop their potential.

As a TecDoc® Premier Data Supplier, we also stand for outstanding data quality. This provides an important foundation for efficient processes throughout the wholesale and workshop environment.

MORE THAN PARTS. SOLUTIONS FOR THE AFTERMARKET OF TOMORROW.

The independent aftermarket is changing. Vehicles are becoming increasingly software-driven, data is gaining importance and diagnostic processes are becoming more complex.

That is why we continuously develop our product range as well as our data quality, technical services and system solutions.

This enables us to support our customers in successfully meeting the challenges of tomorrow.

Metzger Autoteile remains a reliable partner for the aftermarket of the future.

SUCCESS DRIVES US. PROGRESS SETS THE STANDARD.

A high-performance logistics operation is the foundation of reliable supply. That is why we continuously invest in innovative processes and intelligent warehouse technology. This enables us to provide our customers with high availability, fast response times and reliable supply, both today and in the future.

By expanding our site with a state-of-the-art, fully automated logistics centre, we are creating additional capacity for future growth. More than 6,000 new pallet spaces and the expansion of our AutoStore system to over 110,000 bins will sustainably increase the efficiency of our warehousing and order-picking processes.

Today, we keep more than 40,000 products from over 100 product groups constantly available. Thanks to our automated warehouse logistics, we process more than 2,500 shipments every day and enable delivery within 24 hours in Germany and neighbouring countries. This is how we combine high availability, short delivery times and reliable supply.
